The courier system was the first organized delivery system for written information that we know of. But it was not yet used for letters and messages between parties besides pharaoh. In Ancient Persia, during the period of 550 BC to 521 BC, a true postal system was developed in Assyria. It is disputed whether it was Cyrus the Great or his successor Darius I, who was responsible. The postal system of Persia was operated by a series of stations.

British Postal History

A schoolmaster from England, Rowland Hill (1795-1879), invented the adhesive postage stamp in 1837, an act for which he was knighted. Through his efforts, the first postage stamp system in the world was issued in England in 1840. Hill created the first uniform postage rates that were based on weight, rather than size.
