By 1850, Britain had a GDP almost 65% higher than Germany and 30% higher than the United States. This is amazing to me in that both had populations at least 50% greater, with land areas far, far larger. Economic statistics

The Enlightened Economy: Britain and the Industrial ...
The Enlightenment provided the fertile ground of a society where opportunities to innovate and succeed in business became key to personal and national success. In Britain the Industrial Enlightenment had social depth and encompassed thinkers, inventors, factory masters and artisans.
